In June, 1988 was appointed an Adjunct Professor of Law at Capital University Law School. Began teaching in January, 1989 a 2 hour one semester course I developed over a several year period entitled "The Regulation of Insurance." The course dealt with how the insurance industry is regulated. It was taught for five years. A large percentage of the students who took the course were lawyers from law firms in Columbus, since this was the only course of its type in the country.

In October 1995, received a Special Recognition Award from the Ohio Psychological Association for volunteer activities in connection with making psychological care available and accessible to all people.

Served as Consultant and General Counsel to the Ohio Psychological Association (OPA) (1994-2003). Resigned positions in order to continue to represent OPA members before the Psychology Board.

Teach periodically a 3.25 hour seminar on Confidentiality, Duty to Protect and HIPAA as well as a 3 hour seminar entitled Major Practice Problem Areas Facing Mental Health Therapists/Chemical Dependency Counselors. These seminars regularly qualify as required Ethics hours for licensure renewal with the Psychology, Counselor, Social Worker & Marriage and Family Therapist, and Chemical Dependency Counselor Boards.
